Temporary Access to Adobe Creative Cloud Desktop Applications

Available through May 31, 2020

As a result of the coronavirus pandemic, student access to computing labs and classrooms has been limited. Adobe is making temporary at-home access to the Creative Cloud suite of software which includes Acrobat, Photoshop, Illustrator, Premiere and others, available until May 31, 2020 for schools and universities who currently only have lab access for students and educators, at no additional cost. The University of Maine System has registered with Adobe and is now able to offer these temporary licenses to all students and faculty. Please review the system requirements to ensure your personal device will be capable of running the software.

The following guide provides information on how to take advantage of this offer and register an account to download and install the software on a personal device.
