QUESTIONS

1. Other languages, will closed captioning suffice?

ANSWER: Closed captioning of all videos is required for accessibility compliance, along with many other technical and functional conformance criteria.

We do have several more common languages serving both or student and employee populations and if we are going to support comprehension in the best way possible, having access to alternative language options would be beneficial...of course, not every language may be represented, however top languages such as French, Spanish, Chinese, Arabic, and/or perhaps Portuguese and German may be beneficial.

2. Do you want the training for students or faculty/staff or both?

ANSWER: Training to be applicable to both students & staff/faculty.
