

If you would still like to enroll in the new health care coverage through Aon Retiree Health Exchange here is what you need to know

- The deadline to enroll is December 7, 2020, the Medicare enrollment deadline.
- Keep in mind the new $1,500 limit on out-of-pocket prescription drug expenses.
- Enrollment in health care coverage offered through the Aon Retiree Health Exchange remains available and keeping your appointment with an Aon Benefits Advisor your most important step.

If you have already enrolled in the new health care coverage through Aon Retiree Health exchange and wish to keep your plan

You need do nothing at all. Your contract with your new insurance carrier remains in effect moving forward and will be available to you January 1, 2021.

but wish to return to the University-sponsored Aetna group coverage for 2021

Here is what you need to do no later than December 31, 2020:

1. Call the new carrier you chose on the Aon Retiree Health Exchange to cancel the new coverage and to arrange for reimbursement on or before December 31, 2020.
2. Enroll in the University-sponsored Aetna group plan by either completing the Aetna Enrollment Election Form found online at www.maine.edu/human-resources or by contacting the Employee Benefits Center by December 31, 2020.

If you have not yet enrolled in the Aon Retiree Health exchange and wish to remain with the University-sponsored Aetna group coverage

You need do nothing at all and no further communication with the Aon Retiree Benefit Exchange is necessary. By default, anyone NOT enrolled in the Aon Retiree Health Exchange will automatically be renewed in their University-sponsored Aetna group plan for 2021. You will receive new insurance cards in the mail beginning late December.